HEAVY IRON BAR USED IN MURDEROUS ASSAULT

E. S. Metz, Monessen Man, May Die From Fractured Skull

ASSAILANT AT LIBERTY

Makes Getaway Soon After Attack--Injured Foreman Removed to Hospital

Former Councilman E. S. Metz, of Monessen, is in the Monessen-Charleroi hospital at North Charleroi and may die from injuries inflicted by a foreigner at Monessen Thursday night at about 5 o'clock. His skull is fractured. An operation was performed similar to that on A. F. McGowan, but it may prove futile.

According to the story related, Metz, who is a foreman in the Pittsburg Steel plant at Monessen, was giving instructions to a foreigner working under him, when unobserved another foreigner crept up behind him, and struck him with a large iron bar. Metz fell and the man fled.

The foreigner's getaway was accomplished easily. He lightly hopped wires and wound his way through a devious course to a door, then ran to the fence which surrounds the Pittsburg Steel, climbed it, and scurried to freedom. His name is not known.

Metz was picked up in an unconscious condition and medical attention given. He was removed as soon as possible to the hospital. This morning he was reported to be resting easily but not much hope was held out for his recovery.

County authorities of Westmoreland county, the Monessen police and the mill detectives are working on the case trying to locate the man who committed the assault. So far it is stated they have secured only meager clues. No reason has been given for the attack. Metz was not known to have any enemies among the men with whom he worked. It is said this morning that the man who attacked him was an Italian, but beyond that it seems impossible to get any news.

Metz is a man about 45 years old. He is one of the best know men in Monessen, having lived there about 12 years. He is married and has a son and a married daughter surviving.

Deaths Are Over 5,000

Report of Vital Statistics in Pennsylvania Shows Variety of Causes

Pennsylvania's death rate during the month of November was but 5,670, the smallest of any month in 1912, while the birth rate went up to 17,216, according to reports made to the State Bureau of Vital Statistics. The greatest number of deaths was due to pneumonia, which claimed 920 victims. Tuberculosis killed 709. The detail of the report for the month shows 81 suicides, 531 in early infancy, 96 killed in mines and 111 on railroads. "Other forms of violence" cause 551 deaths. Typhoid is blamed for 120; scarlet fever for 54, diptheria 236, measles 66 and whooping cough 40. Cancer is marked up for 423 and malaria for 10.

VALENTINE DAY MEANS MUCH WORK

Postoffice Force Has Holiday Experience All Over

PARCELS POST IS HELP

Cupid may work in mysterious ways his wonders to perform, but not at Valentine time. Though it is Lent, the little god of love is the busiest little chap ever was, as tired postoffice clerks and carriers will attest.

The combination of parcel post system and Valentine day is almost "2 mutch," as Artemas Ward would say. Last year Valentine day was a time of remarkable rush for the postoffice forces. This year is infinitely worse.

At the Charleroi postoffice tables and desks were laden Thursday afternoon and evening and this morning with boxes ranging in size from a ring box to a box big enough to hold a hat—and maybe did. Most of them arrived by parcel post. One of the postoffice clerks stated that the postoffice traffic was just as heavy at this time as it was during the holidays and that is saying a whole lot.

GOVERNOR'S CLUB BILL IS REPORTED

Not So Drastic a Measure as Scott Bill--Calls for License Only Half of That Paid by Hotel Keepers

Harrisburg, Feb. 14—In compliance with his recommendation that clubs that dispense liquor should be licensed, Governor Tener sent a club licensing bill to the legislature yesterday which is not nearly so radical as the Scott bill, which stirred up such a hot fight on the part of the club men at the hearing this week. The governor's bill provides for a license fee for clubs only half that paid by the saloons. There are no fixed hours for closing in it except Sunday and election days. It does not require all the officers and half the members of a club to petition for a license, as does the Scott bill, but it does require that a record be kept of all new members to be available for review by the court at any one time. The governor's bill requires that a club can only dispense liquor on its own premises, a provision designed, it is stated, to do away with beer selling at outings and picnics. For any and every violation a fine of from $500 to $5,000 or from three to 12 months' imprisonment, or both, could be inflicted at the discretion of the court.

Bills are in the course of preparation that will abolish the state board of education. The object of this bill, it is stated is to curtail the arbitrary power of the board.

A bill has been introduced in the house by Representative Martin which makes minors found with cigarets or cigaret paper in their possession guilty of a misdemeanor, and subject to a fine of $5 for the first offense and not more than $50 for subsequent offenses.

RELATES STORY OF HIS VISIT TO OLD COUNTRY

Before an appreciative audience in the Sunday school room of St. Mary's Episcopal church last evening, D. M. McCloskey, Esq., gave a most interesting talk on his experiences of a vacation trip abroad last summer. This talk was one of aseries that Rev. L. W. Shey is giving for the benefit of the young peopleand members of his parish and which are most enjoyable affairs.

Mr. McCloskey gave an interesting outline of his journey from the time he embarked until his return. He spoke of the wonders of ocean travel, how each ocean greyhound that makes a trans-Atlantic trip is a municipality within itself. He told of his visit to Paris, his trip up the Rhine, and gave many interesting incidents and anecdotes of the manners and customs of the people. The wonders of the Alps and the beautiful scenery in Switzerland, the good hotel service there and the peculiarities of government of this ancient republic were interestingly described.

In a trip through Italy Mr. McCloskey described scenes in Venice, wheer the gondoliersconstitute a veritable grand opera. In plying their boats along the canals the happy boatmen, instead of singing ragtime, render strains, solos and choruses of the grand operas. He told of the beauties of the bay of Naples, how he visited an active volcano, and of the voyage to Algiers, in Africa. A stop was made at Gibralter, where the wonders of this impregnable fortress garrisoned with thousands of British soldiers, were graphically described.

The talk was most interesting and instructive to all present.

TAKES UP THE WORK OF AUTO SALESMAN

V. E. Reeves, who was formerly in business here, and who later was engaged in the milling businss with his father-in-law, M. E. Riggs, at East Palestine, Ohio, has taken up the work of salesman with the automobile firm here of Van Voorhis & Kinder, of the Elite Garage. Mr. Reeves has been given practically entire charge of the outside work looking to the sale of cars and will demonstrate and sell the Overland, Stearnes-Knight, Indiana and Chase trucks handled by the firm. He has had considerable experience in automobile work and it is believed will make the firm a most capable representative.

HIGH SCHOOL TO PLAY WAYNESBURG HIGH SCHOOL HERE

What will probably prove one of the hottest games of the High School basketball season will be played on the local floor tonight, when the Charleroi team will play Waynesburg High. The Green countians come confident of victory and with lots of ability to encourage that confidence. However the local team is in the best of shape and is going to make somebody travel a lot to get in ahead of them. Wagner and Stahlman will probably be on the forwards, Gault on center and Nutt and Lowstutter on the guards with Stahlman and Speers to go in probably the latter half.

The attendance at the game is keeping up well. High School students have a number of songs that are sung during the course of the games.

WOMAN'S CLUB OF MONONGAHELA MEETS TONIGHT

The February meting of the Mothers' Club of Monongahela was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Alexander McCanch. The topic of the evening was "Through Religious Nurture and Service," and papers were presented on the following subjects: "The Church Living With Its Children," by Mrs. J. Alvin Hazlett; "The Christian Associations," by Mrs. W. C. McCallister," and "Sunday Occupations," by Mrs. Claude E. Towner. At roll call each one responded with a favorite verse of scripture.

STEAL MARCH ON THEIR FRIENDS

Somewhat of a surprise was occasioned this morning when the news of the marriage of Miss Mercedes Garrigan, of Charleroi and Kenneth Patterson became public. The well known young couple fooled their friends Thursday by slipping away to Cumberland, Md., where a Presbyterian minister said the words that made them man and wife. They left on an early morning train and returned this morning. They will reside in Charleroi.

INDUSTRIES HAMPERED BY THE LACK OF MEN

Promoted to New District

D. H. Johnson, Formerly of Charleroi, Stationed at Butler by West Penn

D. H. Johnson who left Charleroi several months ago to take charge of the Washington district of the West Penn Electric company has been transferred to the Butler district. The change represents a promotion to Mr. Johnson. His successor at Washington has not been named. It is not thought that the Charleroi district will be affected by the change. Mr. Johnson spent some years here before he was sent to Washington, where he has made good in a new field.

GREATER TAX FOR MINERS

Additional Assessment of 50 Cents a Month May be Declared

TO HELP STRIKERS

If a plan said to be originated by the international organization of miners is carried into effect an added special per capita tax on all members of the union throughout the country will be assessed. The amount would be 50 cents a month. This idea would be to create a larger fund for prosecuting the organization campaign in the disturbed West Virginia field.

It is estimated that this per capita of 50 cents will create a defense fund of $200,000 a month for use of the mine workers' organization. The leaders of the union assert they will utilize this entire sum in a determined fight to get recognition of their organization in West Virginia where turmoil has been almost continuous during the last several months.

Felt Joyful; Executed Toe Dance.

The Monessen Independent says that when Dora Gilmore, who was caught in a raid at Wireton, charged with keeping a disorderly house was released on $500 bail, she conducted herself at the hearing very demurely but when she was taken back to her cell she felt so elated over her pending release that she excuted a toe dance.

Impossible to Secure Enough Workers to Supply Demand

EMIGRATION IS SLACK

War in Southeastern Europe Has Its Effect Upon Conditions Locally

There seems to be little general fear and less indication of a bad business year over the country, owing to the change of administration. Not for years it is stated has there been the demand for workmen in all trades that there is this winter, and not for years has there been the steady employment for all who will work. In every section there is a cry for more men. The Pittsburg district could use over 10,000 men if they could get them. The Charleroi district could use hundreds more men if it could get them.

Many thousands of men from the Balkan peninsula and Greece and Italy have left this country since the outbreak of the wars with Turkey. Many of them will never return. Immigration from the countries of Europe involved and from Austria and Russia has dropped off heavily for the same reason. A large proportion of the emigrants to the United States of late years have been coming from southwestern Europe, from the very countries that now are keeping every able bodied man at home to swell the ranks of their armies. Therefore thes tream of immigrants that month by month has been furnishing fresh hands to do the work in the mills and factories has dwindled. It is almost as serious to industry as curtailing the food supply of a hundred cities.

When the Europeanwars began the men called upon in this country for service left many jobs vacant that it has been found impossible to fill. Labor purveyors have been working,but vainly to get men enough to supply the demand at the mines, mills and factories.

The mines along the Monongahela valley are operating about to their fullest capacity. They could use more men, but find themselves unable to secure them.

In Charleroi the Macbeth-Evans Glass plant could use from 50 to 100 additional men, and the same number of boys and girls. They were not affected so much by the return to Europe of men from the war zone. The reason for their need of additional labor arises from increases to their plant.

In a short time work will be gotten under way on the construction of Lock No. 4. The inevitable result will be the need of labor. It will not be so very long until the Carnegie Coal company gets their recently purchased Charleroi works in shape for actual operation. They will need men. If statements of up river coal operators are to be taken as authentic and there is no reason why they shouldn't be, this new coal concern is going to have a tremendously hard time finding men.

FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD.

When a prominent writer made the remark thirty years ago, "To Socialism in some form or other must fall the task of solving the problems of humanity," he spoke in a prophetic tone. Thirty years ago the dostrine of Karl Marx was considered most revolutionary. Today, while the great mass of people do not yet subscribe to the Marx theory of the state taking over all productive enterprises, the cause of Socialism—that is, the well-being of society as opposed to the old idea of the first consideration of vested interests—has made most startling headway.

This is manifested in the trend of progressive public opinion and the demand for more direct voice and influence in government by the people. The determination of the people to get this, and the sudden realization of their power to achieve it, has advanced the cause of Socialism. What are now called progressive measures, such as municipal ownership, the initiative, referendum and recall, the commission form of government, woman suffrage, direct voting for president and United States senators. postal savings banks, the parcels post were a few years ago advocated only by the Socialist party. Today the people as a whole are demanding every one of these measures some of which have already been fully or partially attained.

The taint of imperialism, which still permeates every form of government, is rapidly being eliminated. This taint is the considration of government for the glory of the nation as a whole regardless of the welfare of th individual. Imperial Rome built up a strong, despotic government, but ignored the individual—and decayed and fell. Napoleon Bonaparte's government met with the same fate Turkey's despotic form of government is trembling in the balance, and Imperial Russia, Germany, Austria and all other autocratic forms of government are doomed. In our own country the taint of imperialism is manifested in commercialism, where so-called business and vested interests are considered before the individual. This is what the people are fighting against now. They are making rapid progress, and the time is near at hand when individual welfare will be considered first in all things and commercial and vested interests must get along the best they can. just as the individual is compelled to now.

HOW TO SAVE $600.

If Monongahela, which is engaged in somewhat of a controversy regarding the salaries of its city officials, would follow the example of Charleroi, it could save at least $600 a year. This is to permit some bank to act as treasurer for thecity, instead of paying a treasurer a salary or a commission. It is understood that it is proposed to pay the treasurer there $600 a year, which could be saved in whole by electing a cashier or attache of a bank treasurer with the understanding that the duties of the office be executed without expense or cost to the lity. Charleroi has done this for some years, not only with the borough but with the school district funds as well and does not pay one cent for handling the funds of either the borough or the school district.

It is quite probable that Monongahela could do the same. The town has a city government, operating under a charter of the third class.. Possibly this might prevent it from adopting Charleroi's method, but on the face of it there seems to be no difficulty in the way. Wherever there are public funds to handle there are responsible banks anxious to perform this service for nothing, for the sake of getting the deposits. In most cases this service is done better than by an individual treasurer, and in perfect safety. If banks were asked to bid for the handling of the county funds without cost it is probable that the county would be paid for the privilege, instead of having to pay a commission to a treasurer that runs up into the thousands of dollars.

Monessen Has Local Option League.

Miner Killed at Eclipse.

Want To Pattern After Charleroi

The common council of Monongahela recommends that the mayor require the police of that city to appear in regulation uniform. The Charleroi council took the initiative in this respect a year ago or more, and the police force here is "the finest" in appearance as well as in efficiency.

Hints on Hair Health

If you use our treatment, we will either stop your hair from falling or pay for the treatment ourselves.

Dandruff is a contagious disease caused by a microbe, which if not removed causes baldness. This microbe often comes from a comb or brush belonging to someone else.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Stoggleton and I have a little apartment together in which we had one door that wouldn't shut and one lock that wouldn't lock; they were that way for more than a month, with the getting of them fixed left to me," says a writer in the New York Sun.

"Now I am naturally a gentle, not to say timid, person, and my way of getting things done is to approach people gently, not roughly, but considerately, golden rule style, you know, and that's the way I went about getting that door and lock fixed with the superintendent of this building. I'd say to him:

"Don't you suppose we could have that lock and door fixed pretty soon now? Tthey are really an inconvenience to us and we would like to have them fixed.'

"And the superintendent would say to me, 'Why certainly, they ought to be fixed. I am very busy now,' he would go on, 'but I will fix those things just as soon as I can.'

"And then they would remain unfixed still just the same, nothing done though I had spoken about them half a dozen times, and then Stoggleton got after me. When I told him all I had done about it, how I had tried to get them fixed and how gently and nice I had been with the superintnedent, he says:

"'Huh! that's no way to go about it. You'll never get anywhere that way. What you want to do is to kick about it, and really kick. What do you suppose I do when a man comes into my office and says:

"Mr. Stoggleton, those goods we ordered on the 'steenth are now ten days overdue and we need them. We really do need them. Don't you suppose you could hurry them up a little?' When he says that in that way I say to him:

"'Why, certainly! We've been pushed lately, but we'll get those things to you right away," and then if we are pushed we let him waitten days more because we know he'll stand it, but now here comes another sort of man. This man slams open the door and walks in and says:

"'Stoggleton, those goods of ours that were ordered for the 'steenth are now two days overdue and we want 'em; do you understand that? We want 'em, and if we don't get 'em by 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon we cancel the order, and this is formal

Local Company Makes Improvements

The Beallsville Telephone company has secured a new test set for use for the testing of the lines of the company in the community, which have not been giving service. Quite a number of the lines will probably be rebuilt in the near future. The company is also considering the advisibility of purchasing a new switch board for the central office, as the board now used has not been giving satisfactory service.

Pleasant Rural Reception.

Last Saturday Mrs. Charles M. Berryhill was hostess to a number of her friends at an afternoon reception at her home at Hickory between the hours of 1 and 4. About 45 guests enjoyed Mrs. Berryhill's hospitality during the afternoon and a very pleasant time was spent. Dainty refreshments were served. A most pleasing feature of the afternoon was the piano solos rendered by Miss Mahaffey of Pittsburg. Mrs. Berryhill was assisted in the dining room by Misses Lulu Berryhill, Laura Denny and Jane Denny. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Joseph Reed and Miss Mytle Reed of Canonsburg.

Razor Made in 1775.

In the way of relics Oscar R. Hawkins of near Beallsville, has a Lexington razor, which bears a date mark of 1774, and which is in an excellent state of preservation. The handle is of bone and the razor is as good as when it was manufactured. Mr. Hawkins also has an old gun, found at Garard's Fort, Greene county, made in the 18th century, which he prizes very highly. J. H. Beall, north of town, has a mould board from an old plow which he estimates at over 100 years old.

Honest Advice to Consumptives

Somehow there exists a vast amount of scepticism as to the possibility of curing Consumption. We state none but facts, and are sincere in what we assert.

If we were afflicted with Tuberculosis, we should do precisely what we ask others to do—take Eckman's Alterative promptly and faithfully. The reason we should do this and warrant we have for asking all Consumptives to take it, is that we have the reports of many recoveries, one of which follows:—

3619 Susquehanna Ave., Phila., Pa.

"Gentlemen: For two years I was afflicted with hemorrhages of the lungs, the number totaled nearly one hundred. Our family physician advised another climate, as to remain would probably be fatal. However, I remained, and in February of 1902, I was taken with a severe attack of pneumonia When I recovered sufficiently to walk about the house I was left with a frightful hacking cough, which no medicine I had taken could alleviate. It was at this time, March, 1902, that I learned of and started taking Eckman's Alterative. In a short time my cough was gone and I was pronounced well. Since that time I have had two slight attacks of pneumonia and I have resorted to no other medicine to effect a cure.

"I am at present in excellent health and feel that as long as I can obtain Eckman's Alterative, I have no fear of Consumption. I cannot speak too highly for the good it has done."

(Signed) HOWARD L. KLOTZ.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists

THE PALACE—CHARLEROI.

One of the greatest hits yet made by the Palace Theatre in photoplays was 'The Mysteries of Paris" the opening bill Monday night in four acts. This great drama of the underworld of Paris of nearly 100 years ago was most vividly portrayed in motion pictures with scenes and costumes historically correct and it made a profound impression on those who have poured over Eugene Sue's great story of that name. "The Vintage of Fate' 'was one of the particularly strong dramas of the week, and it told a pathetic story of a woman's constant love, only to be set aside by for another man to whim she gave her heart. "The Vengeance of Durand," a two reel Vitagraph tells the story of how revenge is a two edged sword, which cuts both ways. A man nurtured vengeance for another only to have it enter his own life The weapon which he sharpened with jealousy and hatred and placed in his daughter's hand was eventually turned against himself. One of the most charming travel pictures shown lately was "A Sunday Afternoon in Rural England." This showed some of the delightful nooks and corner of mellow England that are out of the regular route of tourists, the quiet lanes and villages and along the upper Thames, which reveals perhaps one of the choice spots for serene and harmonious country life in the world. Vaudeville was again postponed this week until a satisfactory booking can be startec.

THE COYLE—CHARLEROI.

With a great historic civil war picture in three reels—"Sheridan's Ride"—which was specially enjoyed by nearly 500 school children who were the guests of Manager R. S. Coyle at the matinee the Coyle theatre has had a most auspicious week. "Sheridan's Ride' 'has been amply reviewed, but suffice it to say it was one of the best educational historical pictures yet presented in this community. Another picture of note was "The Tramp Reporter,' 'a story showing the goodness of human nature, even among those on the verge of a subsistence. A tramp reporter who gets a job on a newspaper becomes a star but relinquishes his reputation in order that an aged and broken down reporter who had a family might not lose his job. "For the Honor of the Family" was a three reel Milano film that showed how a young man was willing to go to prison with his father's condemnation in order to save his mother's good name, who was being blackmailed by an unscrupulous scoundrel, "The Scapegoat," a gem of rare merit, and some two reel Bisons, "The Genius of Lapuawaii," "The Survivor" and "The Pony Express" were excellent and strong features. Saturday's bill includes "The Spectral Bridegroom,' a two reel Eclaire which is an unusually strong feature For next Monday and Tuesday Manager Coyle has secured "Satan," one of Ambrosio's great spectacular masterpieces, which cost $200,000 to produce.

THE STAR—CHARLEROI.

Rich is a varied program of drama humor and travel, the Star Theatre is having a great week. Monday started out with a Thanhauser an American split and a Reliance, the titles of which, "The Race," Saving the Innocents," Mrs. Brown's Baby," and "Rowdy Comes Home," show that patrons got the worth of their money. Tuesday's bill was also as fully complete, presenting such titles as "The Recognition," "Jack in the Box," "Hoffmeyer's Legacy." and "The Drummer's Vacation." Wednesday's bill had another of the Frank Merriwell pictures, "A Fight for a Fortune." that was a bummer. Among the other pictures that attracted unusual attention were "The Prospector's Daughter," "The Repeater," "Blackened Hills," and "A Peach for a Prisoner." Saturday's bill contains "The Power of Love, a humorous split Punch film and Gaumont's Weekly a pictorial review of world-wide events. For Monday Manager Tom B. Cowan has secured the great $25,000 circus drama, "In a Den of Lions, or Life in a Circus." This is a most realistic exposition of life under the great white top of a traveling circus, and is unusually thrilling. In addition Monday a Kay Bee feature will be presented, "The Law of the West,' 'making five reels for the date.

THE GRAND—PITTSBURG.

Vaudeville in the Grand next week will be on the highest plans of artistry and at the same time thoroughly diversified. Mr. Davis is announcing the first engagement in Pittsburg in this field of Henry Woodruff, the distinguished star of "Brown of Harvard," "A Prince for a Night," etc. Mr. Woodruff has but recently made his vaudeville debut in a play written by John Stokes, author of "The Baby," "Between Trains," etc. It is called "A Regular Business Man" and in the part of Robert Hornblower Mr. Woodruff has found abundant opportunity and ample scope for his large talents and undoubted versatility. His support includes James M. Brophy, Margaret Lotus and Isabella West. The comedy is teeming with dialogue of the sparkling variety, rich in timely humor and surprising in situations.

Lillian Shaw is one of the most delightful character singing comediennes on teh stage. Miss Shaw has the abandon of Nora Bayes and a facility of expressions entirely her own. Harry Gilfoil, happily remembered for many clever portrayals in the field of music and farce comedy and one of the standbys of the Hoytian days, is to give his inimitable imitations of birds, beasts and men, and of course, a monologue of exuberant humor. Br. Gilfoil still retains his characterization of the amiable old "rounder,'" Baron Sands and is a delight in any show, Lamberti, the master musician, is so called because his portrayals of the great comer upon thecello, violin and the piano. posers and virtuosi are faitful to the originals.

The Avon Comedy Four, Messrs. Goodwin, Coleman, Smith and Dale, will enact their original farce called, "The New School Teacher." It is a real Hooray of fun and melodious singing. Each has a splendid singing voice, but they are all comedians and excel in the comic pranks of the school room.

The highest tribute possible to pay an English artist is to say he has been commanded to appear before their Majesties, the King and Queen. That is the proud distiction of Frank Hartley, who makes his local debut with a series of clever and amusing feats of jugglery. The Four Bards, greatest of gymnasts, will perform a routine of phenomenal balancing and acrobatic feats, including thrilling leaps and dives across stage. Still other features are in the program and is course the closing number as customary in the Grand will be the highest class of motion pictures in color.

THE ALVIN—PITTSBURG.

With an inevitable blare of trumpets "The Merry Countess" and her retinue de luxe of singers and dancers is csheduled to appear at the Alvin Theatre next Monday night and to remain for the week. The Company which will present "The Merry Countess" at the Alvin Theatre is one of superlative excellence. The artists are: Miss Jose Collins, Maurice Farkoa, Martin Brown, Miss Fritzie von Busing, Mr. Forrest Huff, Miss Mabel Burnege, Tom A. Shale, A. W. Bascomb, Claude Flemming, Miss Lysa Graham, Frank Farrington and the incomparable Dolly Twins.

The text treats of the mis-adventures of the Countess Rosalinda Chiquot, whose husband, the count is a gay and frivolous scion of the nobility and whose time is spent in trying to extract the pleasure out of life without the assistance of his wife. Although she is neglected by her husband, others are more considerate of her comfort and happiness. The husband has been sentenced to five years in jail, but before giving himself up he decides to attend a fancy dress ball, given exclusively for the ladies of the Prince Orloffsky's private ballet and off he goes. His beautiful flirt with an impetuous Hungarian who is desperately in love with her and because she is a little too free with him, in an unguarded moment he enters her boudoir and is apprehended by the police, who mistake him for the count and march him off to jail. But such a jail, never in the history of the world was such a gorgeous place fitted for the imprisonment of affenders of the law. Once a man is placed therein he wants to stay. So it is with the Hungarian. The count is arrested because his wife follows him to the bal masque and reports the affair to the police and when the party meets there on the morrow and the countess' little affair is discovered and she is about to be emparrassed when she produces proof that she was the masked beauty with whom her husband flirted outrageously and everything ends in a blaze of glory in good old musical comedy fashion.

notice of the same," and then he jumps out and slams the door behind him.

"'And do you suppose he gets his goods? Why, Willie, he certainly does. And now,' says Stoggleton, 'you leave the door and lock to me. I'll attend to them.'

"He didn't go to the superintendent about it; he said I had attended to that end of it; he went to the agent, and he didn't talk to the office boy or the man in the outside office, he bolts straight in to the boss man himself and to him he says:

"'We moved into that apartment on the first day of last month and we've been there now five weeks. We've got a door that won't shut and a lock that won't lock and we've been five weeks trying to get 'em fixed. We have a letter from you saying that we would find the apartment in complete and perfect order. We want that door and lock fixed within two days or we move out,' and then Stoggleton stopped and came away.

"The door and the lock were fixed next day. What I had been in my way working at successfully for thirty-five days Stoggleton by his way actually got done in one.

"It was some shock to me, but Stoggleton says that to kick is the only way if you want to get things done."

The Glowworm Cavern.

The greatest wonder of the antipodes is the celebrated glowworm cavern, discovered in 1891 in the heart of the Tasmanian wilderness. The cavern or caverns (there appears to be a series of such caverns in the vicinity, each separate and distinct) are situated near the town of Southport, Tasmania, in a limestone bluff, about four miles from Ida bay. The appearance of the main cavern is that of an underground river, the entire floor of the subterranean passage being covered with water about a foot and a half in depth. These wonderful Tasmanian caves are similar to all caverns found in limestone formation, with the exception that their roofs and sides literally shine with the light emitted by the millions of glowworms which inhabit them

Strange Cure For Lunacy.

Our forefathers were so fond of the whip that they seem to have regarded it as a cure for lunacy and even for smallpox. The accounts of a Huntingdonshire parish under date 1691 have the entry, "I'd. in charges taking up a distracted woman, watching her and whipping her next day, 8s. 6d.," and a few years later eightpence is paid for "whipping two people yt had the smallpox." London Standard.

Makes Getaway Soon After Attack--Injured Foreman Removed to Hospital

Former Councilman E. S. Metz, of Monessen, is in the Monessen-Charleroi hospital at North Charleroi and may die from injuries inflicted by a foreigner at Monessen Thursday night at about 5 o'clock. His skull is fractured. An operation was performed similar to that on A. F. McGowan, but it may prove futile.

According to the story related, Metz, who is a foreman in the Pittsburg Steel plant at Monessen, was giving instructions to a foreigner working under him, when unobserved another foreigner crept up behind him, and struck him with a large iron bar. Metz fell and the man fled.

The foreigner's getaway was accomplished easily. He lightly hopped wires and wound his way through a devious course to a door, then ran to the fence which surrounds the Pittsburg Steel, climbed it, and scurried to freedom. His name is not known.

Metz was picked up in an unconscious condition and medical attention given. He was removed as soon as possible to the hospital. This morning he was reported to be resting easily but not much hope was held out for his recovery.

County authorities of Westmoreland county, the Monessen police and the mill detectives are working on the case trying to locate the man who committed the assault. So far it is stated they have secured only meager clues. No reason has been given for the attack. Metz was not known to have any enemies among the men with whom he worked. It is said this morning that the man who attacked him was an Italian, but beyond that it seems impossible to get any news.

Metz is a man about 45 years old. He is one of the best know men in Monessen, having lived there about 12 years. He is married and has a son and a married daughter surviving.

Deaths Are Over 5,000

Report of Vital Statistics in Pennsylvania Shows Variety of Causes

Pennsylvania's death rate during the month of November was but 5,670, the smallest of any month in 1912, while the birth rate went up to 17,216, according to reports made to the State Bureau of Vital Statistics. The greatest number of deaths was due to pneumonia, which claimed 920 victims. Tuberculosis killed 709. The detail of the report for the month shows 81 suicides, 531 in early infancy, 96 killed in mines and 111 on railroads. "Other forms of violence" cause 551 deaths. Typhoid is blamed for 120, scarlet fever for 54, diptheria 236, measles 66 and whooping cough 40. Cancer is marked up for 428 and malaria for 10.

VALENTINE DAY MEANS MUCH WORK

Postoffice Force Has Holiday Experience All Over

PARCELS POST IS HELP

Cupid may work in mysterious ways his wonders to perform, but not at Valentine time. Though it is Lent, the little god of love is the busiest little chap ever was, as tired postoffice clerks and carriers will attest.

The combination of parcel post system and Valentine day is almost "2 mutch," as Artemas Ward would say. Last year Valentine day was a time of remarkable rush for the postoffice forces. This year is infinitely worse.

At the Charleroi postoffice tables and desks were laden Thursday afternoon and evening and this morning with boxes ranging in size from a ring box to a box big enough to hold a hat—and maybe did. Most of them arrived by parcel post. One of the postoffice clerks stated that the postoffice traffic was just as heavy at this time as it was during the holidays and that is saying a whole lot.

GOVERNOR'S CLUB BILL IS REPORTED

Not So Drastic a Measure as Scott Bill--Calls for License Only Half of That Paid by Hotel Keepers

Harrisburg, Feb. 14—In compliance with his recommendation that clubs that dispense liquor should be licensed, Governor Tener sent a club licensing bill to the legislature yesterday which is not nearly so radical as the Scott bill. There is not nearly so much such a hot fight on the part of the club men at the hearing this week. The governor's bill provides for a license fee for clubs only half that paid by the saloons. There are no fixed hours for closing in it except Sunday and election days. It does not require all the officers and half the members of a club to petition for a license, as does the Scott bill, but it does require that a record be kept of all new members to be available for review by the court at any one time. The governor's bill requires that a club can only dispense liquor on its own premises, a provision designed, it is stated, to do away with beer selling at outings and picnics. For any and every violation a fine of from $500 to $5,000 or from three to 12 months' imprisonment, or both, is provided. The bill also requires the approval of the court.

Bills are in the course of preparation that will abolish the state board of education. The object of this bill, it is stated is to curtail the arbitrary power of the board.

A bill has been introduced in the house by Representative Martin which makes minors found with cigarettes or cigaret paper in their possession guilty of a misdemeanor, and subject to a fine of $5 for the first offense and not more than $50 for subsequent offenses.

RELATES STORY OF HIS VISIT TO OLD COUNTRY

Before an appreciative audience in the Sunday school room of St. Mary's Episcopal church last evening, D. M. McCloskey, Esq., gave a most interesting talk on his experiences of a vacation trip abroad last summer. This talk was one of aseries that Rev. L. W. Shey is giving for the benefit of the young peopleand members of his parish and which are most enjoyable affairs.

Mr. McCloskey gave an interesting outline of his journey from the time he embarked until his return. He spoke of the wonders of ocean travel, how each ocean greyhound that makes a trans-Atlantic trip is a municipality within itself. He told of his visit to Paris, his trip up the Rhine, and gave many interesting incidents and ancedotes of the manners and customs of the people. The wonders of the Alps and the beautiful scenery in Switzerland, the good hotel service there and the peculiarities of government of this ancient republic were interestingly described.

In a trip through Italy Mr. McCloskey described scenes in Venice, wheer the gondoliers constitute a veritable grand opera. In plying their boats along the canals the happy boatmen, instead of singing ragtime, render strains, solos and choruses of the grand operas. He told of the beauties of the bay of Naples, how he visited an active volcano, and of the voyage to Algiers, in Africa. A stop was made at Gibralter, where the wonders of this impregnable fortress garrisoned with thousands of British soldiers, were graphically described.

The talk was most interesting and instructive to all present.

Mr. Reeves has been given practically entire charge of the outside work looking to the sale of cars and will demonstrate and sell the Overland, Stearnes-Knight, Indiana and Chase trucks handled by the firm. He has had considerable experience in automobile work and it is believed will make the firm a most capable representative.

HIGH SCHOOL TO PLAY WAYNESBURG HIGH SCHOOL HERE

What will probably prove one of the hottest games of the High School basketball season will be played on the local floor tonight, when the Charleroi team will play Waynesburg High. The Green countians come confident of victory and with lots of ability to encourage that confidence. However the local team is in the best of shape and is going to make somebody travel a lot to get in ahead of them. Wagner and Stahlman will probably be on the forwards, Gault on center and Nutt and Lowstutter on the guards with Stahlman and Speers to go in probably the latter half.

The attendance at the game is keeping up well. High School students have a number of songs that are sung during the course of the games.

Alvin Hazlett; "The Christian Associations," by Mrs. W. C. McCallister," and "Sunday Occupations," by Mrs. Claude E. Towner. At roll call each one responded with a favorite verse of scripture.

STEAL MARCH ON THEIR FRIENDS

Somewhat of a surprise was occasioned this morning when the news of the marriage of Miss Mercedes Garrigan, of Charleroi and Kenneth Patterson became public. The well known young couple fooled their friends Thursday by slipping away to Cumberland, Md., where a Presbyterian minister said the words that made them man and wife. They left on an early morning train and returned this morning. They will reside in Charleroi.

INDUSTRIES HAMPERED BY THE LACK OF MEN

D. H. Johnson who left Charleroi several months ago to take charge of the Washington district of the West Penn Electric company has been transferred to the Butler district. The change represents a promotion to Mr. Johnson. His successor at Washington has not been named. It is not thought that the Charleroi district will be affected by the change. Mr. Johnson spent some years here before he was sent to Washington, where he has made good in a new field.

GREATER TAX FOR MINERS

Additional Assessment of 50 Cents a Month May be Declared

TO HELP STRIKERS

If a plan said to be originated by the international organization of miners is carried into effect an added special per capita tax on all members of the union throughout the country will be assessed. The amount would be 50 cents a month. This idea would be to create a larger fund for prosecuting the organization campaign in the disturbed West Virginia field.

It is estimated that this per capita of 50 cents will create a defense fund of $200,000 a month for use of the mine workers' organization. The leaders of the union assert they will utilize this entire sum in a determined fight to get recognition of their organization in West Virginia where turmoil has been almost continuous during the last several months.

Felt Joyful; Executed Toe Dance.

The Monessen Independent says that when Dora Gilmore, who was caught in a raid at Wireton, charged with keeping a disorderly house was released on $500 bail, she conducted herself at the hearing very demurely but when she was taken back to her cell she felt so elated over her pending release that she excuted a toe dance.

Impossible to Secure Enough Workers to Supply Demand

EMIGRATION IS SLACK

War in Southeastern Europe Has Its Effect Upon Conditions Locally

There seems to be little general fear and less indication of a bad business year over the country, owing to the change of administration. Not for years it is stated has there been the demand for workmen in all trades that there is this winter, and not for years has there been the steady employment for all who will work. In every section there is a cry for more men. The Pittsburg district could use over 10,000 men if they could get them. The Charleroi district could use hundreds more men if it could get them.

Many thousands of men from the Balkan peninsula and Greece and Italy have left this country since the outbreak of the wars with Turkey. Many of them will never return. Immigration from the countries of Europe involved and from Austria and Russia has dropped off heavily for the same reason. A large proportion of the emigrants to the United States of late years have been coming from southwestern Europe, from the very countries that now are keeping every able bodied man at home to swell the ranks of their armies. Therefore thes tream of immigrants that month by month has been furnishing fresh hands to do the work in the mills and factories has dwindled. It is almost as serious to industry as curtailing the food supply of a hundred cities.

When the European wars began the men called upon in this country for service left many jobs vacant that it has been found impossible to fill. Labor purveyors have been working, but vainly to get men enough to supply the demand at the mines, mills and factories.

The mines along the Monongahela valley are operating about to their fullest capacity. They could use more men, but find themselves unable to secure them.

In Charleroi the Macbeth-Evans Glass plant could use from 50 to 100 additional men, and the same number of boys and girls. They were not affected so much by the return to Europe of men from the war zone. The reason for their need of additional labor arises from increases to their plant.

In a short time work will be gotten under way on the construction of Lock No. 4. The inevitable result will be the need of labor. It will not be so very long until the Carnegie Coal company gets their recently purchased Charleroi works in shape for actual operation. They will need men. If statements of up river coal operators are to be taken as authentic and there is no reason why they shouldn't be, this new coal concern is going to have a tremendously hard time finding men.

FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD

When a prominent writer made the remark thirty years ago. "To Socialism in some form or other must fall the task of solving the problems of humanity," he spoke in a prophetic tone Thirty years ago the dostrine of Karl Marx was considered most revolutionary Today, while the great mass of people do not yet subscribe to the Marxist theory of the state taking over all productive enterprises, the cause of Socialism—that is, the well-being of society as opposed to the old idea of the first consideration of vested interests—has made most startling headway.

This is manifested in the trend of progressive public opinion and the demand for more direct voice and influence in government by the people. The determination of the people to get this, and the sudden realization of their power to achieve it, has advanced the cause of Socialism. What are now called progressive measures, such as municipal ownership, the initiative, referendum and recall, the commission form of government, woman suffrage, direct voting for president and United States senators. postal savings banks, the parcels post were a few years ago advocated only by the Socialist party. Today the people as a whole are demanding every one of these measures some of which have already been fully or partially attained.

The taint of imperialism, which still permeates every form of government, is rapidly being eliminated This taint is the considration of government for the glory of the nation as a whole regardless of the welfare of the individual. Imperial Rome built up a strong, despotic government, but ignored the individual—and decayed and fell Napoleon Bonaparte's government met with the same fate Turkey's despotic form of government is trembling in the balance and imperial Russia, Germany, Austria and all other autocratic forms of government are doomed. In our own country the taint of imperialism is manifested in commercialism, where so-called business and vested interests are considered before the individual. This is what the people are fighting against now. They are making rapid progress, and the time is near at hand when individual welfare will be considered first in all things and commercial and vested interests must get along the best they can, just as the individual is compelled to now

HOW TO SAVE $600.

If Monongahela, which is engaged in somewhat of a controversy regarding the salaries of its city officials, would follow the example of Charleroi, it could save at least $600 a year. This is to permit some bank to act as treasurer for thecity, instead of paying a treasurer a salary or a commission It is understood that it is proposed to pay the treasurer there $600 a year, which could be saved in whole by electing a cashier or attache of a bank treasurer with the understanding that the duties of the office be executed without expense or cost to the city. Charleroi has done this for some years. not only with the borough but with the school district funds as well and does not pay one cent for handling the funds of either the borough or the school district

It is quite probable that Monongahela could do the same. The town has a city government operating under a charter of the third class Possibly this might prevent it from adopting Charleroi's method. but on the face of it there seems to be no difficulty in the way Wherever there are public funds to handle there are responsible banks anxious to perform this service for nothing, for the sake of getting the deposits In most cases this service is done better than by an individual treasurer, and in perfect safety If banks were asked to bid for the handling of the county funds without cost it is probable that the county would be paid for the privilege. instead of having to pay a commission to a treasurer that runs up into the thousands of dollars

"Stoggleton and I have a little apartment together in which we had one door that wouldn't shut and one lock that wouldn't lock, they were that way for more than a month, with the getting of them fixed left to me," says a writer in the New York Sun

"Now I am naturally a gentle, not to say, timid, person, and my way of getting things done is to approach people gently, not roughly, but considerately, golden rule style, you know, and that's the way I went about getting that door and lock fixed with the superintendent of this building. I'd say to him:

"Don't you suppose we could have that lock and door fixed pretty soon now? Tthey are really an inconvenience to us and we would like to have them fixed.'

"And the superintendent would say to me, 'Why certainly, they ought to be fixed. I am very busy now,' he would go on, 'but I will fix those things just as soon as I can'

"And then they would remain unfixed still just the same, nothing done though I had spoken about them half a dozen times, and then Stoggleton got after me. When I told him all I had done about it, how I had tried to get them fixed and how gently and nice I had been with the superintnedent, he says:

"'Huh! that's no way to go about it You'll never get anywhere that way. What you want to do is to kick about it, and really kick. What do you suppose I do when a man comes into my office and says:

"Mr. Stoggleton, those goods we ordered on the 'steenth are now ten days overdue and we need them. We really do need them. Don't you suppose you could hurry them up a little?' When he says that in that way I say to him:

"'"Why, certainly' We've been pushed lately, but we'll get those things to you right away," and then if we are pushed we let him waitten [illegible] stand it. but now here comes another sort of man The man slams open the door and walks in and says:

Honest Advice to Consumptives

Somehow there exists a vast amount of scepticism as to the possibility of curing Consumption. We state none but facts, and are sincere in what we assert.

If we were afflicted with Tuberculosis, we should do precisely what we ask others to do—take Eckman's Alterative promptly and faithfully. The reason we should do this and warrant we have for asking all Consumptives to take it, is that we have the reports of many recoveries one of which follows—

"Gentlemen. For two years I was afflicted with hemorrhages of the lungs, the number totaled nearly one hundred. Our family physician advised another climate, as to remain would probably be fatal However, I remained, and in February of 1902, I was taken with a severe attack of pneumonia When I recovered sufficiently to walk about the house I was left with a frightful hacking cough, which no medicine I had taken could alleviate It was at this time, March, 1902, that I learned of and started taking Eckman's Alterative In a short time my cough was gone and I was pronounced well Since that time I have had two [illegible] resorted to no other medicine to effect a cure

I am at present in excellent health and feel that as long as I can obtain Eckman's Alterative I have no fear of Consumption. I cannot speak too highly for the good it has done"

AMONG THE THEATRES

THE PALACE—CHARLEROI.

One of the greatest hits yet made by the Palace Theatre in photoplays was 'The Mysteries of Paris" the opening bill Monday night in four acts. This great drama of the underworld of Paris of nearly 100 years ago was most vividly portrayed in motion pictures with scenes and costumes historically correct and it made a profound impression on those who have poured over Eugene Sue's great story of that name. "The Vintage of Fate' 'was one of the particularly strong dramas of the week, and it told a pathetic story of a woman's constant love, only to be set aside by for another man to whim she gave her heart. "The Vengeance of Durand," a two reel Vitograph tells the story of how revenge is a two edged sword, which cuts both ways. A man nurtured vengeance for another only to have it enter his own life The weapon which he sharpened with jealousy and hatred and placed in his daughter's hand was eventually turned against himself. One of the most charming travel pictures shown lately was "A Sunday Afternoon in Rural England." This showed some of the delightful nooks and corner of mellow England that are out of the regular route of tourists, the quiet lanes and villages and along the upper Thames, which reveals perhaps one of the choice spots for serene and harmonious country life in the world. Vaudeville was again postponed this week until a satisfactory booking can be startec.

THE COYLE—CHARLEROI.

With a great historic civil war picture in three reels—"Sheridan's Ride" —which was specially enjoyed by nearly 500 school children who were the guests of Manager R. S. Coyle at the matinee the Coyle theatre has had a most auspicious week. "Sheridan's Ride' 'has been amply reviewed, but suffice it to say it was one of the best educational historical pictures yet presented in this community. Another picture of note was "The Tramp Reporter,' 'a story showing the goodness of human nature, even among those on the verge of a subsistence. A tramp reporter who gets a job on a newspaper becomes a star but relinquishes his reputation in order that an aged and broken down reporter who had a family might not lose his job. "For the Honor of the Family" was a three reel Milano film that showed how a young man was willing to go to prison with his father's condemnation in order to save his mother's good name, who was being blackmailed by an unscrupulous scoundrel, "The Scapegoat," a gem of rare merit, and some two reel Bisons, "The Genius of Lapuawaii," "The Survivor" and "The Pony Express" were excellent and strong features. Saturday's bill includes "The Spectral Bridegroom,' a two reel Eclaire which is an unusually strong feature For next Monday and Tuesday Manager Coyle has secured "Satan," one of Ambrosio's great spectacular masterpieces, which cost $200,000 to produce.

THE STAR—CHARLEROI.

Rich is a varied program of drama humor and travel, the Star Theatre is having a great week. Monday started out with a Thanhauser an American split and a Reliance, the titles of which, "The Race," Saving the Innocents," Mrs. Brown's Baby," and "Rowdy Comes Home," show that patrons got the worth of their money. Tuesday's bill was also as fully complete, presenting such titles as "The Recognition," "Jack in the Box," "Hoffmeyer's Legacy." and "The Drummer's Vacation." Wednesday's bill had another of the Frank Merivell pictures, "A Fight for a Fortune," that was a hummer. Among the other pictures that attracted unusual attention were "The Prospector's Daughter," "The Repeater," "Blackened Hills," and "A Peach for a Prisoner." Saturday's bill contains "The Power of Love, a humorous split Punch film and Gaumont's Weekly a pictorial review of world-wide events. For Monday Manager Tom B. Cowan has secured the great $25,000 circus drama, "In a Den of Lions, or Life in a Circus." This is a most realistic exposition of life under the great white top of a traveling circus, and is unusually thrilling. In addition Monday a Kay Bee feature will be presented, "The Law of the West,' 'making five reels for the date.

THE GRAND—PITTSBURG.

Vaudeville in the Grand next week will be on the highest plans of artistry and at the same time thoroughly diversified. Mr. Davis is announcing the first engagement in Pittsburg in this field of Henry Woodruff, the distinguished star of "Brown of Harvard," "A Prince for a Night," etc. Mr. Woodruff has but recently made his vaudeville debut in a play written by John Stokes, author of "The Baby," "Between Trains," etc. It is called "A Regular Business Man" and in the part of Robert Hornblower Mr. Woodruff has found abundant opportunity and ample scope for his large talents and undoubted versatility. His support includes James M. Brophy, Margaret Lotus and Isabella West. The comedy is teeming with dialogue of the sparkling variety, rich in timely humor and surprising in situations.

Lillian Shaw is one of the most delightful character singing comediennes on teh stage. Miss Shaw has the abandon of Nora Bayes and a facility of expressions entirely her own. Harry Gilfoil, happily remembered for many clever portrayals in the field of music and farce comedy and one of the standbys of the Hoytian days, is to give his inimitable imitations of birds, beasts and men, and of course, a monologue of exuberant humor. Br. Gilfoil still retains his characterization of the amiable old "rounder," Baron Sands and is a delight in any show, Lamberti, the master musician, is so called because his portrayals of the great comer upon the cello, violin and the piano. posers and virtuosi are faitful to the originals.

The Aven Comedy Four, Messrs. Goodwin, Coleman, Smith and Dale, will enact their original farce called, "The New School Teacher." It is a real Hooray of fun and melodious singing. Each has a splendid singing voice, but they are all comedians and excel in the comic pranks of the school room.

The highest tribute possible to pay an English artist is to say he has been commanded to appear before their Majesties, the King and Queen. That is the proud distiction of Frank Hartley, who makes his local debut with a series of clever and amusing feats of jugglery. The Four Bards, greatest of gymnasts, will perform a routine of phenomenal balancing and acrobatic feats, including thrilling leaps and dives across stage. Still other features are in the program and is course the closing number as customary in the Grand will be the highest class of motion pictures in color.

THE ALVIN—PITTSBURG.

With an inevitable blare of trumpets "The Merry Countess" and her retinue de luxe of singers and dancers is scheduled to appear at the Alvin Theatre next Monday night and to remain for the week. The Company which will present "The Merry Countess" at the Alvin Theatre is one of superlative excellence. The artists are: Miss Jose Collins, Maurice Farkoa, Martin Brown, Miss Fritzie von Busing, Mr. Forrest Huff, Miss Mabel Burnege, Tom A. Shale, A. W. Bascomb, Claude Flemming, Miss Lysa Graham, Frank Farrington and the incomparable Dolly Twins.

The text treats of the mis-adventures of the Countess Rosalinda Cliquot, whose husband, the count is a gay and frivolous scion of the nobility and whose time is spent in trying to extract the pleasure out of life without the assistance of his wife. Although she is neglected by her husband, others are more considerate of her comfort and happiness. The husband has been sentenced to five years in jail, but before giving himself up he decides to attend a fancy dress ball, given exclusively for the ladies of the Prince Orlonsky's private ballet and off he goes. His beautiful flirt with an impetuous Hungarian who is desperately in love with her and because she is a little too free with him, in an unguarded moment he enters her boudoir and is apprehended by the police, who mistake him for the count and march him off to jail. But such a jail, never in the history of the world was such a gongeous place fitted for the imprisonment of affenders of the law. Once a man is placed therein he wants to stay. So it is with the Hungarian. The count is arrested because his wife follows him to the bal masque and reports the affair to the police and when the party meets there on the monrow and the countess' little affair is discovered and she is about to be emparrassed when she produces proof that she was the masked beauty with whom her husband flirted outrageously and everything ends in a blaze of glory in good old musical comedy fashion.

notice of the same," and then he jumps out and slams the door behind him.

"'And do you suppose he gets his goods? Why, Willie, he certainly does And now,' says Stoggleton, 'you leave the door and lock to me. I'll attend to them.'

"He didn't go to the superintendent about it: he said I had attended to that end of it; he went to the agent, and he didn't talk to the office boy or the man in the outside office, he bolts straight in to the boss man himself and to him he says:

"'We moved into that apartment on the first day of last month and we've been there now five weeks. We've got a door that won't shut and a lock that won't lock and we've been five weeks trying to get 'em fixed. We have a letter from you saying that we would find the apartment in complete and perfect order. We want that door and lock fixed within two days or we move out,' and then Stoggleton stopped and came away.

"The door and the lock were fixed next day. What I had been in my way working at successfully for thirty-five days Stoggleton by his way actually got done in one.

"It was some shock to me, but Stoggleton says that to kick is the only way if you want to get things done."

The Glowworm Cavern.

The greatest wonder of the antipodes is the celebrated glowworm cavern, discovered in 1891 in the heart of the Tasmanian wilderness The cavern or caverns (there appears to be a series of such caverns in the vicinity, each separate and distinct) are situated near the town of Southport, Tasmania, in a limestone bluff about four miles from Ida bay The appearance of the main cavern is that of an underground river, the entire floor of the subterranean passage being covered with water about a foot and a half in depth These wonderful Tasmanian caves are similar to all caverns found in limestone formation, with the exception that their roofs and sides literally shine with the light emitted by the millions of glowworms which inhabit them
